

SICILIAN SAGA

There's more ethnic humour and music in Cu Fu?, Calogero Chiarelli's one-man show that looks at growing up Canadian with roots in another culture.

With its blend of storytelling and music-making, Cu Fu? — a Sicilian expression for "who did it?" — tells the semi-fictionalized story of an Italian family transplanted to Canada in the 50s. Chiarelli's charm is a strength of the show, as is his mean blues harmonica playing.
